

The Brigadiers Show Their Hand.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean's Washington special, of February 18th, says the Democratic key-note for the approaching campaign has at last been sounded in Congress, and the Republicans are delighted to find that it is a revival of the old cry under which their opponents blundered through the extra session and lost the Full election last year. It has been evident for some time that the leaders of the majority in the House had determined to make a desperate fight on the question of retaining the power to put riders on the appropriation bills, and to-day Frank Hurd of Ohio announced the party programme in a brief but powerful speech, which was attentively heard. Warner of Ohio, who introduced the amendment which was administered on Thursday, partly breaking down the old system, had only a minute or two for a reply, in which he secured the repeated applause of the whole Republican side by denouncing unqualifiedly the whole doctrine of redress of grievances which Hurd had just defended. The first vote was taken on the amendment proposed by Speaker of Georgia, that it should not be in order to change the existing law in the appropriation bill except to reduce expenses. The young Georgian was supported in this stand by the whole Republican side, nearly all the Greenbackers and Felton and Stephens of Georgia, Taylor and Whitehorn of Tennessee and Mills of Texas, but by diligent work the Democratic leaders managed to score a bare majority against him, the vote standing 121 to 120. Two other amendments of the same general character were voted down. The fight will be renewed after the Committee of the Whole reports to the House, and the Democrats will have hard work to stave off the amendments.

It is not Goat Island now but Mare Island that is wanted by the railroad companies. The San Francisco Chronicle says the Central Pacific Railroad and its Siamese twin, the Southern Pacific Railroad, have for years had an eye on Mare Island as a most desirable piece of property. It is claimed that the corporation is reaching out for the China and Japan, Pacific Islands, South America and coastwise trade, and has already begun organizing a fleet, of which the Belgic, Oceanic and Gaelic form the nucleus, for carrying on the business. In order to provide for all the necessary facilities which this great transportation company by land and water demands, a depot is required where steamers can be built, reconstructed or repaired, and where locomotives and cars of every description can be manufactured. Thus far the facilities at Sacramento and Oakland have been ample to meet the wants of the corporation, but more important works will be required in the near future.

San Francisco is socially excited over the recent wedding of Miss Rose Lipman to Emanuel L. Heller. The wedding presents were of the richest kind and were most numerous. Among the mass of costly gifts were elegant bronzes, rare pottery, decorated crockery, silver and gold in profusion in vases, dishes, utensils, baccarat, cloisonne, diamonds, lacquered wares, pearl and lace fans, and every article suggested by wealth and taste. After the marriage ceremony was performed, the father-in-law placed upon the neck of the bride a necklace composed of many solitaire diamonds and valued at $30,000. The bride's father's present to the bridegroom was remarkable for its simplicity and taste—a check for $100,000.

A dispatch from Marion, Ohio, gives an account of the discovery of perpetual motion by Wm. S. O'Brien and Wm. F. Hyett, of Richland township, Marion county. The truth of the discovery is vouched for by leading citizens. It consists of a large iron wheel containing a large number of slides, inclined planes, etc. It will start itself. O'Brien is a miller and Hyett a mechanic. They have been working a machine for some time. A model has been made and sent to Washington to patent. Meantime the patentees keep watch under lock and key.

The Judges of the Superior Court in San Francisco sat in a body Wednesday to listen to the argument in the habeas corpus case of S. J. Robertson and Maggie Brewster, who were arrested under the "dive ordinance." The arguments were in effect that the new Constitution, Article 20, Section 18, gave women equal rights with men in all lawful vocations, and that women had the same right, save as attendants in saloons, as men. The decision was that the ordinance was clearly in violation of the Constitution, inoperative and void. Eight Justices concurred, two dissented and two were absent.

BLAINE'S POSITION.

The report that Mr. Blaine would, under some circumstances, take the second place on the ticket with the ex-President is laughed at as ridiculous by the Senator's friends, who say that he is undoubtedly the most popular man for the first place, and does not want the second place under any circumstances. It may be added that Mr. Blaine is known to be opposed to the third term movement, not merely because he is himself a candidate for the nomination, but on the much broader ground that to renominate the ex-President would be to violate an important traditional safeguard of the Republic and be a dangerous example and precedent for the future. Nor does he believe that the party can afford to take the risk of offending the prejudices or alarming the fears of the country at this time by an act which would be needlessly offensive and would probably alienate many voters. He desires the continued success of the Republican party regardless of his own candidacy, and he does not think the third term movement one conducive to success. All reports that he would under any circumstances accept the second place on the ticket with the ex-President, or that he favors the third term movement in any shape, are therefore false.

A RIVAL OF EDISON'S TELEPHONE.

Under date of the 19th a Pittsburgh special to the Chicago Tribune says: Application for a patent in connection with a telephone was forwarded to-night by a gentleman of this city. The claim is its ability to transmit the physical wave force of light electrically, similar to the transmission of sound by telephone. It is claimed that when the new invention is simply perfected for practical use, it will be possible for one or two persons conversing by telephone to perceive distinctly at the same time the image of the person with whom he is conversing. The practical utility of the invention will be more thoroughly apparent when it is stated that the inventor believes he will be able to transmit from point to point any written or printed documents—for instance, the entire side of a newspaper. The invention is called the telephoto.

Senator Windom, of Minnesota, is connected with the Presidency, by an article in the Mankato Free Press, which ushers him before the public in a style of eloquence peculiar to itself. Hear that clated and sanguine sheet: Blaine is booming, and Sherman is pulling up with a mighty oar, while the light of Grant's ship is going down over the distant waters. The sons of Maine and Ohio, both valiant knights, with visors down, will make helmet and breastplate ring with shivering lances. While the death-grapple proceeds in the Presidential amphitheater, Conkling of New York, like a Roman athlete, will step in the ring and shy his castors (thirty-five solid votes) for William Windom of Minnesota. The "Star of the North" will quickly respond; then Iowa, followed by the whole Northwest; while the South will rise shouting from their seats. The huzzas will go up above the din of Chicago's roar, the dead gladiators will be carried out, and the curtain will be rung down.

IRELAND'S CONDITION.—A London dispatch of the 18th says: Accounts from the country for the past few days have been more hopeful. There is much suffering but no starvation, except in far off islands, to which relief is being sent without delay or stint. In parts of Donegal the want is great, but the Dublin Mansion House Fund has been made promptly available. Agrarian agitation may be said to be completely at an end. Attempts to get up meetings of that sort recently have all failed.

The Eureka Sentinel declares that Tilden must be renominated. From the signs of the times the Journal is inclined to believe that Nevada's vote in the Democratic National Convention will be cast for the bar, with the hope that some of the delegates may bring a hoop back to the sagebrush.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company have entered into a pro rating agreement with the Atlantic Steamship Company for all overland passenger traffic. Cablegrams have been received of the departure of a large number of emigrants from Liverpool for the Pacific slope.

At no time, since Eureka has aspired to the proportions of a town, has it been so dull as at present. Merchants and others, including reporters, are patiently waiting for the boom which, it is asserted, will set in about April 1st.

Blaine Clubs are being formed in San Francisco. The "white-plumed knight" can carry every Pacific Coast State and the nation, with a big N, against Tilden, Thurman or any other man.

Assembly Bill No. 269, to regulate the stock business, was ordered to a third reading in the California Senate on Wednesday, after a protracted struggle.

The California Assembly needs settling down on with a big club for its disorderly conduct.

Ohio ought not to ask more—Hayes and perpetual motion.

THE DEFEAT OF THE REAGAN BILL.

(Eureka Sentinel.)

The telegraph, a day or two since, announced an adverse report from the House Committee on Commerce on the Reagan bill. This action probably seals the fate of the measure. It is a severe blow to the people of this State, and will generally be regarded by them as such. They had come to look to this measure as their only hope of relief from the exactions of the transcontinental monopolists. Of course, the presumption is raised that the railroads used money and other improper influence to defeat the Reagan bill. Such an inference is justified, when we remember the unanimity with which the bill passed the House at the last session. Yet we can discern why an Eastern Congressman, uninfluenced by improper motives, might array himself against it. The theory of the Reagan bill is that no more shall be charged for a shorter than for a longer distance of continuous carriage. This is the feature which particularly commended the bill to the people of this State. They saw in it that no more could be charged them for merchandise laid down in Nevada than is charged the San Francisco merchant, who enjoys the benefit of water transportation. In other words, that the Nevada merchant would get his goods at through San Francisco rates, thus saving the back freight enormity of the Central Pacific Railroad Company. This was all very well, from a Nevada standpoint, and would have suited our people admirably, but, unfortunately for us, the people of the East did not care to place themselves under the operation of a Federal law which would compel them to pay as much for short as long distances.

Hon. James Wilson made the chief argument against the bill before the Committee on Commerce. He took the broad ground and urged it as a fundamental principle of transportation that the longer the haul the lower should be the rate. This is of course a good argument with the farmers of the old West who are situated at remote distances from the great grain markets. Mr. Wilson illustrated this idea as follows: Suppose the greater distance over which a carload of freight is to be carried is 1,000 miles, and the rate $100. Another carload of the same kind of freight is to be moved over the line at a shorter distance of 50 miles. Can $100 be charged for that also? Undoubtedly this can be done under the construction of the section given by its author. Whatever is charged for the greater distance may likewise be put upon the shorter haul. If $150 be charged for 1,000 miles, the same amount may be charged for 25 miles. And this is to have the sanction of law. One or the other of these constructions must be given to the section: Either it prohibits a low rate for a long haul, or authorizes an exorbitant rate for a short haul.

And thus our pet scheme has fallen a victim to the notions of the long-line shippers. They desire to get to market on something like an equal footing with those who are more favorably located in regard to the matter of distance. It might be concluded that the sharp competition between the great network of roads in the old States would guarantee against extortionate freight charges, but of late the system of combination has sprung up among the railway managers, and the people shrink from being left to their mercy. Hence, we fear that the Reagan bill is dead past all resurrection.

The people of Nevada must now look for relief in some other direction. Possibly some measure calculated to meet the case—to give us cheaper rates—may be devised at this session, but we confess that we have little hope of so desirable a consummation. Happily two or three competing overland roads are nearing this coast, and will be through within the next three years. If not sooner, we may then hope for something in the way of benefit arising from competition.

A WIDE VEIN.—The Comstock at the north end is proving of immense width. At the Union Consolidated and to the northward it spreads out like that widening in the Upper Mississippi river, known as Lake Pepin. The east drift on the 2400 level of the Union Consolidated mine has been run a distance of 324 feet east of the Union shaft, and when stopped was still cutting streaks of good ore. At this point a winze will be sunk to the 2500 level. This winze is liable to find ore before reaching its destination, as the streaks cut in the drift seem to be making against the east side of the main body of ore first opened. Against this they lie like leaves of a book. These leaves of ore will no doubt be found to increase in thickness below, and at the 2500 level may be found to have united and formed one solid mass of ore. To the eastward of the point reached by the drift, against the east wall of the vein—wherever that may be—is also likely to be found a vein of ore of goodly size.—Enterprise.

NOT SETTLED YET.—Mr. Yerington says no decision has yet been arrived at as to the working of Chinamen on that part of the Bodie railroad in Lyon county. During an interview with a prominent citizen of Silver City to-day, that citizen expressed a disbelief in any forcible measures being resorted to by the Miners' Union to prevent Chinese working on the road. The gentleman is not a member of the Union, although identified with labor organizations.—[Gold Hill News, 10th.

It will not be long before the man who has just made a tour through the State, and found the people unanimous for some particular person for President, will burst upon the public through the newspapers. This personage is conspicuous in every campaign, and always willing to be interviewed. But it is remarkable how far he is from the truth on election day.

CATTLE DYING.—We learn that the cattle on South Fork that are not being fed are beginning to die, and that every one there who has hay is feeding. It is estimated that there are between two and three thousand head of cattle between Altruss and the head of South Fork.—[Modoc Independent.

PEOPLE'S STORE.
PEOPLE'S STORE!
IN PRESENTING THE ABOVE NAME TO the people of this city and adjacent counties, we desire to explain fully the motives and objects of our business, the manner and style in which we intend to do it, and why it is to the interest of the public to support the views we take.
Our business transactions will all be based on the STRICT CASH PAYMENT PLAN.
By this we mean that purchases must be accompanied by Cash, and
UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES
WILL ANY GOODS BE CHARGED.
Our motives for this doing might, if not explained, seem exacting; but one moment—and we shall ask you, "How do you expect to buy at low rates and pay for the following extras— which, when you must and is always added to the goods you buy?"
The following items we save, not for ourselves, but for the patrons of our house.
First—We save the cost of a Book-keeper and Collector.
Second—By avoiding the losses occasioned by non-paying customers.
Third—By paying the interest at 1 per cent per month on $5.00, instead in book accounts.
Fourth—By saving any commissions in charging for goods that would be sold on credit.
Fifth—By having the cash in the drawer, and the goods on the shelf, thereby saving the expense of paying or goods before the book accounts could be collected.
Sixth—And most important, by the reduction in prices of goods we buy, for where we have the cash to pay down for any article we desire, we can always buy goods at a reduced price, and naturally can afford to sell cheaper, and yet have as much profit for when buying on time, and paying in three or four months thereafter, a merchant certainly pays a higher price for his goods than one who has the ready cash to pay immediately. And it is equally as true, and is an indisputable fact, that any house doing a credit business cannot sell at as low a price of one doing a Strict Cash Business.
These theories demonstrate and convince Scepticism itself, and are as solid as an ocean rock.
Many an experienced eye will scan these lines, knowing full well these living truths, which cannot be disputed.
It is our intention to place the different lines of merchandise we carry within the reach of legitimate traders, and at such
GREAT REDUCTION
That our patrons not alone will cling to us, but, with encouraging applause will urge us onward to inaugurate the system of
SOLID CASH,
WHICH IS THE ONLY LEVER TO SUCCESSFUL MERCHANDISING.
We desire every purchaser of
DRY GOODS,
In each and every one of our Departments, to thoroughly examine our stock and become convinced that our rates for Sheetings,
Hosiery,
Dress Goods,
Buttons,
Laces,
Silks,
Etc., Etc.,
—ARE—
Unequalled in Quality and Matchless in Prices.
